

Libraries Week

Last week ...

This week.

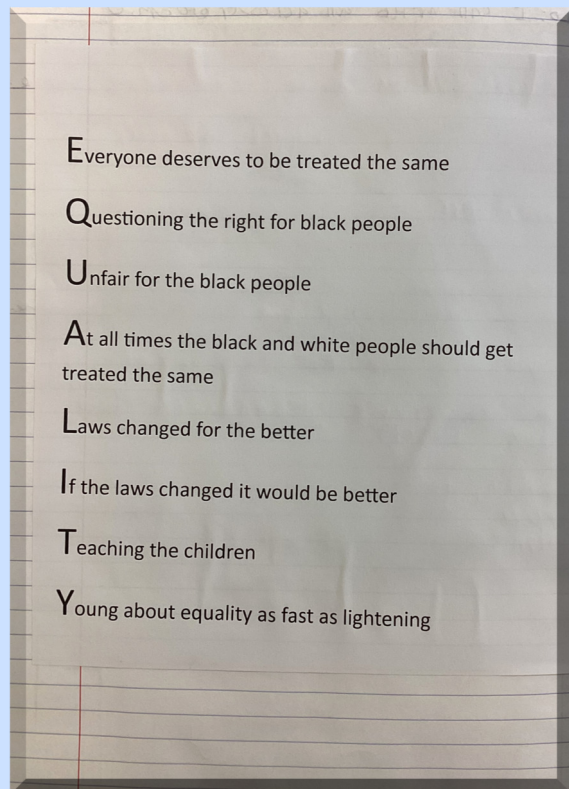

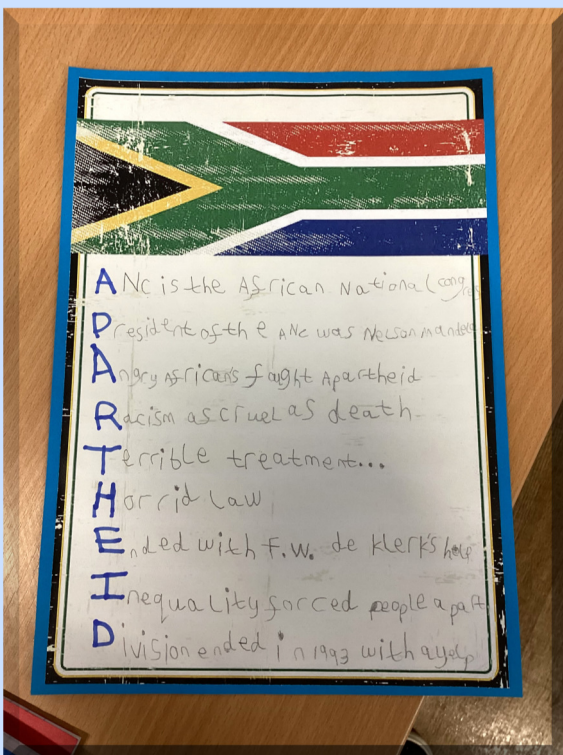

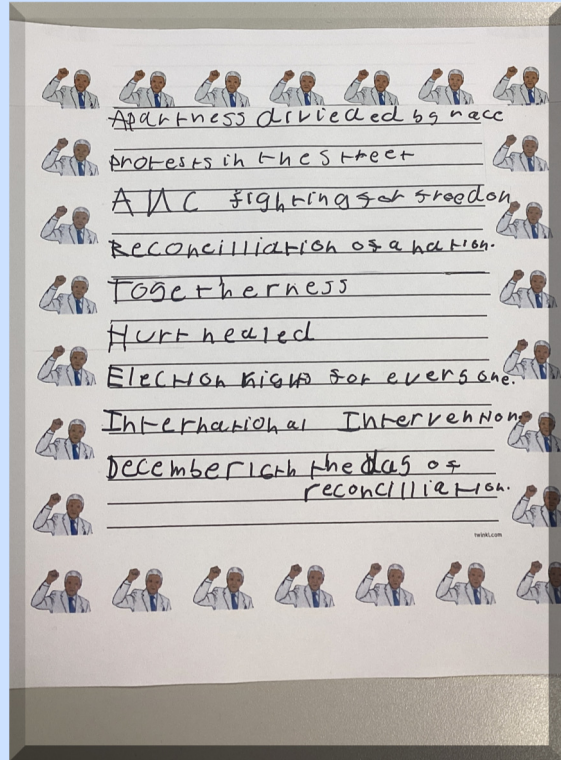

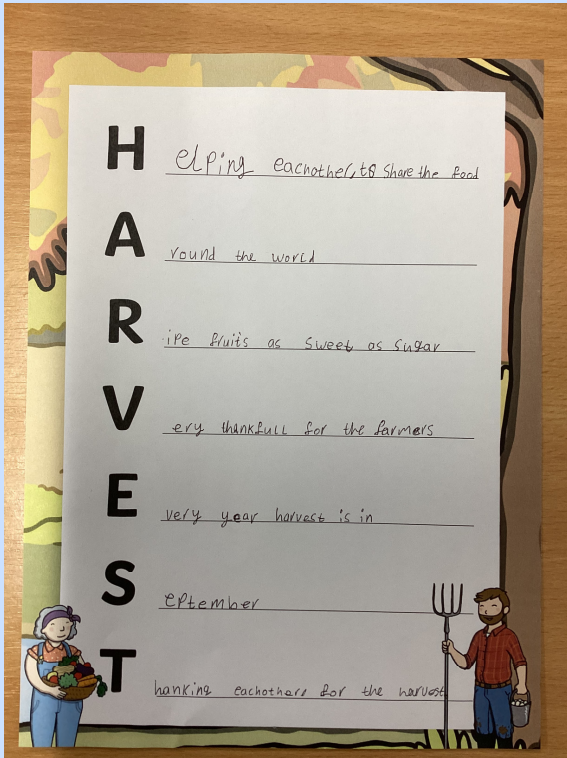

A helping hand

Ivan has taken it upon himself to serve dessert to everyone this week and has done an excellent job.

English

We have been very impressed with the cross-curricular acrostic poems produced this term. Some are linked to RE and some to our Black History theme.

Gardening Club

After a shopping trip into town and more hard work, two of the flower beds are now stocked with winter flowering plants.

Elsewhere in the curriculum ...

Caelan thought that using our new place value counters made working out his calculations “fun” and definitely improved his accuracy.

In Science, some of the pupils have been exploring forces and magnets. This week, they were exploring the grounds to identify what is and isn't magnetic.

Cherry Class visited Oakham Castle this week.
