Issue 161 24th January 2025

Burns Night

Take a look at some highlights from our recent celebration of Burns Night in school. The students tried Haggis which was something new to most of our students. It was wonderful to see their enthusiasm towards trying something new and their curiosity about Scottish traditions.

A special mention goes to Joe, who did a fantastic job presenting the Haggis to all in The Dining Room, making it a memorable moment for everyone!

We will continue to explore different cultures throughout the year. Why not have a go at exploring some recipes from other cultures with your children at home to broaden their understanding of the diverse world we live in.
